

You can expect the dentist to gently examine your teeth and gums.
He or she will also count your teeth and check your bite.
We need to understand the health and condition of your mouth.
At the end, the dentist will go over the results with you.
We will not do anything without permission from you and your parents.